Supervisors withdraw offer for prisoners' work center

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Supervisors' hopes to establish a prison work center in Hancock County for low-risk prisoners appear to be doomed.
Monday the supervisors voted unanimously to withdraw their offer of a location for the center adjacent to Stennis International Airport and to ask the Mississippi Department of Corrections to consider another site.
But Michael Chambers, southern regional coordinator of community services for the department, has said water and sewerage must be available at the site, and the only two county properties that meet those criteria are Stennis and Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Port Bienville was rejected earlier as a site because of its distance from the local agencies which would use the inmate labor.
Protesters at Monday's meeting objected to the Port Bienville site, also.

"I cannot imagine an industrialist even considering the idea of putting a great deal of money into land, facilities and equipment and having a minimum security prison outside the back door," protester Billy Burrows said.
"Mixing prisoners and industry is like mixing water and oil."
And Sheriff Ronnie Peterson told the supervisors, "I think once the board rejects this location, you can forget about it."

"You go somewhere else, there will be four, five, ten people who will object and the same thing will happen."
Supervisor James Travira, who stated at the outset of Monday's discussion he would vote against the location due to opposition from so many of his constituents, said NSTL officials were "negative" to the idea of locating the center at the test site, as proposed by citizens at a meeting held May 7 in Kiln.
Travira said yesterday NSTL is also "negative" at this particular time about putting the center in the buffer zone.
Board President A.A. (Dolph) Kellar said he believed the center would be good for the county "if we could find someplace where people would be satisfied."

"But if this is not a unanimous vote of the board, I'm not going to go with it," he said.
One protester complained that area residents were not consulted about the proposed center beforehand.

Bay sailing trio leads California Olympic Trials

By EDGAR H. PEREZ
The Bay St. Louis trio of Rod and Dennis Stieffel and Randy Santa Cruz hold a "slight edge" in U.S. Olympic Trials in Long Beach, Calif.
Sailing the Spirit of Bay St. Louis, they have finished second, sixth, eighth and first in the first four of ten races to qualify one team to represent the U.S. in Soling-class races during Olympic Summer Games this year.
The Bay St. Louis sailors are competing against some 20 other teams from throughout the country for the honor.
"We have a slight edge at this point," said helmsman Rod Stieffel from California Wednesday morning.
Stieffel said racing will begin again

Sunday for six straight days and a total of ten races.

Final standings will be judged on the best eight finishes out of the ten races, he noted.

After the first four races which were concluded Tuesday, the local trio's point total stood at 29.7, with their nearest competitors scoring 31.7 points after finishes of fourth, fourth, third and fifth.

That second place team is composed of Ed Allen and crewmen John and Brian Porter, all of Spring Park, Minn.

In third place after four races is Ed Baird and crewmen Larry Klein and Paul Elfert, all of St. Petersburg, Fla.

That team finished sixth, fifth, first and sixth for a point total of 33.4.

And in fourth place is the team of Dave Perry, Brad Dillenbaugh and Moose McClintock, all of Long Beach, Calif.

The Perry team finished 12th, third, fourth and second with a score of 34.7 points.

"We have had some real good breaks, including the fact that we have not yet had to use one of our throw-out races," Stieffel added.

"Some of the top competitors have had premature starts which disqualified them in the particular race, or have finished as far back as 12th, leaving them with one or no races left to throw out," Stieffel explained.

"We had a rough day yesterday when we finished first in real strong winds," he continued, "but overall the weather here has been excellent with clear skies and good breezes."

County has needed to justify funding

Wastewater engineer, BMR official seeking irrigation funds in Atlanta

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Waveland Regional Wastewater District Engineer Ray Easton and John McCarty, Bureau of Pollution Control's Hancock County coordinator, were to meet yesterday in Atlanta, Ga., with Environmental Protection Agency officials to discuss the district's proposed sewage treatment project.
But McCarty told wastewater authorities Monday that the proposed system must serve not only Waveland and Bay St. Louis residents but other county residents who can be incorporated into it.
"It ought to serve southeast Hancock County to justify funding," he said.

"The EPA has been raising flags about the cost of the project," he said.

"This is just the first of many justifications we're going to have to go through," McCarty warned.

"I think we'll have to take our justification to Washington at some point in the future."

A May 11 letter to Wastewater Chairman John Longo from Charlie L. Blalock, executive director of the Mississippi Department of Natural Resources, confirmed that this innovative land spray irrigation project has been placed on the FY-84 construction grants priority list, thereby making the project eligible for some immediate EPA funding.

"However," the letter states, "this system alone is not sufficient to protect and enhance the Jordan River nor the nearby shellfish harvesting waters."

"In order that the waters be protected and the full potential of the land disposal project be realized, the problem of inadequate individual treatment systems (septic tanks and also raw sewage lines) throughout the area must be solved."

The letter emphasizes that the commission will only fund such a system if responsible parties provide actions and timetables for constructing sewers to correct these existing problems and also actions are taken to prevent continuing construction of the inadequate units.

"The way I see it, right now the burden is squarely on the supervisors' back," said A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, wastewater member and president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

"If we don't comply, we can forget about land treatment, right?"

"The county hasn't been mentioned until now. We get ready to fund this thing and now the burden's on the county's back."

WATER ODOR

Bill Johnson of the Bay St. Louis Utilities Department reported yesterday that odors from city water are caused by sulfur and result from chlorination problems during the last few weeks.

The problem should be cleared up in the next day or so, he said, after chlorine moves through the water lines.

Faulty voter rolls indicate 75.9 percent registration

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
The Hancock County Election Commission met Tuesday afternoon to pull 3,200 names from the voter registration list as potential jurors during the coming year.

The effort may be more successful this time since 250 names were removed from the registration books last month and address corrections were made for 51 names.

Last week Election Commissioner Charles Gottschalk told the Hancock County Board of Supervisors that during a recent court session, jury summons were sent out to 100 registered voters but only 28 prospective jurors appeared.

About a year ago, he said, it was necessary to postpone a scheduled murder trial because the pool of jurors failed to provide a qualified jury.

The 1980 census reported Hancock County's population at 24,497.

According to voter registration books, 18,337 persons are registered to vote in the county. As Gottschalk pointed out, this would indicate that about 74.9 percent of Hancock County's population is registered to vote.

In most communities, population predictors assume that 25 percent of the population is below the age of majority.

A telephone survey Tuesday indicated an estimated school-age population of 4,987 in Hancock County: Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District, 2,000 students; Hancock County School District, 2,164; Christ Episcopal Day School, 74; St. Stanislaus, 170; Our Lady Academy, 100; Bay Catholic Elementary School, 185; and St. Clare Catholic School, 264.

Using the 1980 census figure, statistics would indicate, then, that there are only about 1,173 persons in Hancock County who are under school age, of school age but not enrolled in school, or adults who have not registered to vote.

Hancock County was redistricted in April, 1983, to comply with a requirement that each of the five board of supervisors' districts contain, as nearly as possible, 20 percent of the total population.

Redistricting moved district lines, changed the district in which a portion of the population lived, created new voting precincts and changed polling places for many voters.

After the August, 1983, election the supervisors requested permission to conduct a countywide voter reregistration.

The Voting Section of the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Attorney General's office has thus far failed to approve voter reregistration, and Gottschalk does not expect approval in the foreseeable future.

"We've been asked to provide more information," Board Attorney Walter Gex III said, "but the county just cannot dedicate enough effort to meet the U.S. Justice Department's requirements for reregistration."

Gottschalk said part of the problem with the voter registration books stems from the post office having changed rural route numbers so many times.

"Also," he said, "people move but don't change their address on the books, so they can vote but don't have to serve on juries."

Gottschalk said another effort to purge the voter registration list will begin May 21, and a third effort will take place in September.

And, he said, the problem is even worse in other areas—Secretary of State Dick Molpus reported at an election commissioners' seminar last month that two Mississippi counties which he did not identify have more registered voters than they have total population.

Funds

"I'm certain I can get the board to agree this needs to be done," Kellar said.

"But when it comes to funding, I don't know what we can do."

"Could you say you're in agreement with the plan and provided funding becomes available you would cooperate?" McCarty asked.

"My answer would be yes," Kellar said, "but I can't answer for the board. I'd have to take it up with them."

"And I'd need to know costs."

"The commission said to say you're going to treat not just Bay St. Louis and Waveland but also to treat the county," McCarty pointed out.

"That's not saying you're going to do it right now," he said.

"They want plans and timelines."

The bulk of the funding for the project, McCarty said, would not be available until 1987 based on present allocation of federal funds.

"I would be remiss in my duties if I didn't warn you I have to have a plan in the next two or three weeks," he added.

The problem areas, the group agreed, include developments south of I-10 along the Jourdan River—Jourdan River Isles, Jourdan River Estates, Jourdan River Estates and Shoreline Park.

The irrigation method was selected after some residents of those areas opposed a plan to extend city outfall lines to the Jourdan River and upgrade the Waveland treatment plant.

The system would be eligible to receive 85 percent federal funding over a four-year period because it is categorized as an "innovative" treatment alternative.

Quotables by CUEVAS

We have been receiving very good reports from persons who have visited the World's Fair in New Orleans. On our visits prior to opening, we were impressed with everything we saw.

It appears the fair is a very good opportunity for an entire family outing, as there are many things of interest for all ages.

We are hoping to get to the big city within a few weeks to take in the fair since it has opened.

A train ride to New Orleans is an added feature, we along the Coast can enjoy in connection with the fair.

While talking about the train ride, we noted some Amtrak directional signs this week which have been placed in Waveland.

The schedule for the Waveland-Bay St. Louis Amtrak stop is 9:11 a.m. for the trip to New Orleans. Amtrak leaves New Orleans at 6:30 p.m. and returns to Waveland at 7:43 p.m. daily.

Tickets are available from the train's conductor or at Hancock Travel in Bay St. Louis.

We have been following and reporting the exploits of three Hancock residents in recent months on their quest for a spot on the U.S. Olympic team's Soling Class.

The trio of sailors consists of Randy Santa Cruz, Dennis Stieffel, and Rod Stieffel of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

The final tryouts will start Sunday in Long Beach, Calif. and finish next Friday.

The local sailors are leading in competition held this week, and we hope they continue winning.

It would sure be a big honor for these young men to represent the United States Olympic team in the Soling Class.

Good luck to Randy, Dennis, and Rod.

Vandalism hampering beautification efforts on Coleman Avenue

May 15, 1984

Dear Editor:

Several months ago 100 percent of the business owners on Coleman Avenue and one very good citizen combined their efforts which resulted in informative directory signs being placed at each entrance of Coleman Ave.

This very good citizen and friend went one step further and dressed up the sign locations with planters and plants using her own labor and money.

We were all so pleased and proud of the results but since then many of the plants have been stolen—they have been replaced three times.

I feel sure when people realize that we are not using their tax money they will appreciate the efforts of this generous lady and not steal anymore plants.

Since most of the traffic to Buccaneer Park is directed down Coleman Avenue, we are trying hard to make it more pleasant and will appreciate any help, especially with litter.

Sincerely,

Handgun Control, Inc. urges adoption of Law Enforcement Officer Protection Act

May 7, 1984

Dear Editor:

President Reagan has declared May 13-19 National Police Week. During this time we honor those men and women who daily risk their lives to protect us from violent crime.

The Congress should show its gratitude to these officers by passing the Law Enforcement Officers Protection Act.

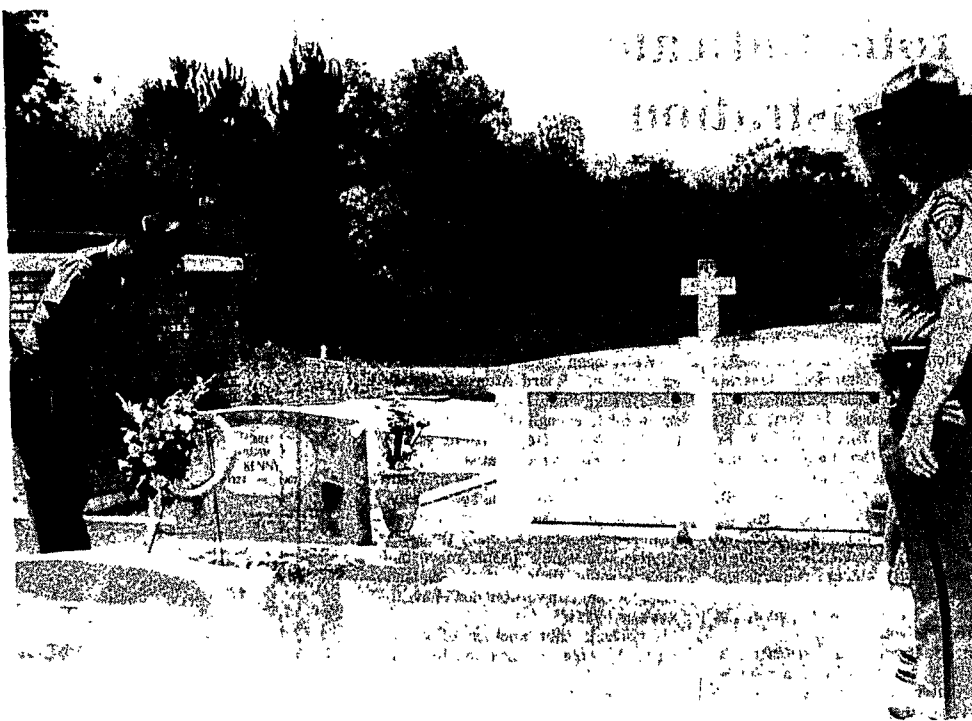

This legislation, sponsored by Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan and Congressman Mario Biaggi, a 23-year veteran of the New York City Police Department who was wounded 10 times in the line of duty, would ban the manufacture and sale of cop-killer bullets—ammunition designed to penetrate the bulletproof vests worn by police. The bill would also require a mandatory jail sentence for using cop-killer bullets in a crime.

Handgun Control has joined the nation's police in urging Congress to pass this common-sense measure. Already 200 senators and representatives have endorsed the bill. But the National Rifle Association has launched a multi-million dollar campaign to defeat the measure.

We urge citizens across America to contact their legislators during Police Week and ask them to support the cop-killer bullet ban. It's time the Congress stood up to the misguided NRA.

Sincerely,
Barbara Lautman

MEMORIAL SERVICES—Memorial Services were held throughout the State of Mississippi on Sunday at burial sites of Mississippi Highway Patrol troopers killed in the line of duty. David Kenny, left, Mississippi State trooper, places a wreath on the grave of Bill Kenny, his father, who was killed on US-90 in Pass Christian while on duty. Troopers Tony Greer, and Fred Keel, at right salute. The special services were held at St. Mary's Cemetery, Bay St. Louis with Sgt. Pete Pope in charge. Kenny's family members also attended the ceremony. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

FALLEN OFFICERS REMEMBERED—A Memorial Service for law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty was held Tuesday at the Hancock County Courthouse. Capt. Robert Butler, right, Bay St. Louis Police department reads the names of those killed in the state during the past 10 years, as local law officers and elected officials participate. A color guard was presented by the Theodore S. Price Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3253, Bay St. Louis. Father Francis Theriault, St. Augustine Seminary, gave the benediction. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

News from the Governor

Mississippi's state parks offer some of the best vacation bargains to be found anywhere, according to the Governor's Service Line.

"Because of their proximity, state parks can keep your travel expenses low, and, once you're at a state park, you usually can save considerable money on lodging," said Sara Dickson, a Governor's Service Line counselor.

"Cabin rentals, for example, range from $16 to $50 per night," Ms. Dickson said, "and the $50 cabins can accommodate as many as 11 people. All state park cabins are equipped with sheets, blankets and kitchen utensils."

"Most of the 28 parks have camping facilities, and electrical, water and sewage hookups cost $9.50 per day," she said.

Many state parks provide bicycle rentals, boat launching facilities, camp stores, canoe and boat rentals, fishing facilities, lodges-activity buildings, laundry facilities, miniature golf, nature trails, picnic areas, playground equipment, athletic playing fields, restaurants, snack bars, swimming facilities, tennis courts, vacation cabins and water skiing facilities.

Many improvements in Mississippi's state parks were made last year. Approximately $60,000 was spent for landscaping, and a $2 million dam was constructed at Natchez State Park.

Additional facilities are included in two state parks relatively close to the World's Fair in New Orleans. At Buccaneer State Park, Waveland, 45 camp sites have been added to bring the park's total to 150. At Percy Quin State Park, McComb, a tent campground, with 20 sites, has been added.

"Many of us have been conditioned to think that the greater the distance, the better the vacation," Ms. Dickson noted. "I've traveled internationally, and yet some of the best vacations I've had have been in Mississippi."

Further information on Mississippi's state parks and other state services may be obtained by dialing the Governor's Service Line Jackson number, 961-4042, or the toll-free number, 1-800-222-7622.

Each year, the Governor's Service Line responds to more than 20,000 calls and "is a key element in Governor Allain's commitment," Ms. Dickson said, "of taking government to the people."

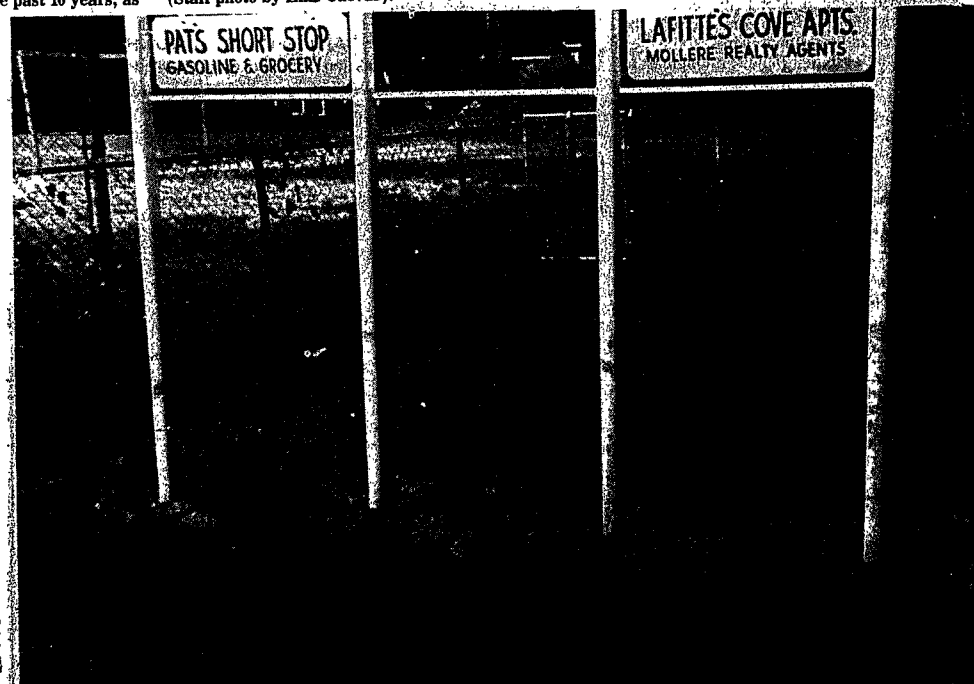

Mississippi's new drunk driving law is tough.

Under Mississippi's new implied Consent Law, if you are driving under the influence of alcohol you're just asking to have your license suspended, for a minimum of 90 days. After July 1 if you're on the road drunk, it won't be for long. Governor's Highway Safety Program

MISSING PLANTS—Some people (a) have been removing the flowering plants from under the billboards carrying the names of all the businesses and professionals on Coleman Avenue. This has not only happened once, but it has happened twice. A citizen of the City of Waveland took her own money and time to plant flowers were planted to enhance the appearance of the signs. We feel it takes someone of a very low character to do such things as steal the plants. It is amazing how many residents want to make our communities a cleaner and more beautiful place to live, yet there are a few persons living in our area who would be an embarrassment to a herd of pigs in a sty. Braising or "Smothering" seafood, meats or poultry is a cooking method which Cajun, Creole and other Southern cooks have brought to perfection. When food is "smothered" in this manner, very little water or broth or stock or wine is added, just enough to keep the food from sticking to the pan, or in some instances, barely enough to cover the meat, for example.

The food is simmered or smothered very slowly in a heavy pot, tightly covered, over a low flame, never reaching the boiling point. One of the most delightful of these "smothered" dishes is crawfish etouffee—translated, "Smothered Crawfish Bayou Style."

Many crawfish lovers insist that there's no better way to eat the "mudbugs" than boiled in highly seasoned water, along with potatoes, onion and corn on the cob, and washed down with quantities of cold, cold beer.

But, if you manage to save some of the mudbugs from the hungry group, or if you've found a pound or so of the crawfish tails, as is often the case, peeled already cooked and seasoned, available at some markets, cook up a:

Crawfish Etouffee (ay-to-fay):
First, a note—there are many versions of crawfish etouffee, just as there are of jambalaya, gumbo and such, but I prefer the true bayou version, cooked along the bayous of South Louisiana. Some cooks add tomatoes, others make a roux—that's the fun of cooking, just do it your way, improvise as you go along, according to your taste and what's on hand at your house that day!

That's the sort of recipe I'm giving you today, with measurements and quantities depending upon the amount of crawfish tails you have on hand.

For each pound of the crawfish tails you need there or four green onions, with their tops, chopped rather fine, as well as dashes of black pepper, also salt if you wish, and, of course, splashes of hot pepper sauce and a bit of oil, along with chopped parsley for garnishing the dish.

Pour into a heavy skillet just enough cooking oil to cover the bottom of the pan, and heat until smoking hot. Sauté the onions a bit, and, hopefully, if you've a little of the crawfish fat on hand (that's the thick brown fluid from the heads of the crawdads) toss that into the pot with a bit of water, for extra flavor.

Add the crawfish tails, the hot sauce, the pepper, and perhaps even a dash or so of cayenne pepper, and let it simmer, tightly covered, for about 10 or 15 minutes—don't overcook, that's the cardinal sin of seafood cookery! (And don't even peek as the crawfish simmer in their own juices, they deepen in color, just as if you'd added tomatoes or sauce, which, as I said before, some cooks do—but along the bayous of Louisiana, for the most part, cooks prefer just the flavor of the crawfish cooked, briefly in their own juices.

Increase the quantities as needed, depending upon the number of servings you want, and serve with or over hot, fluffy rice. Or, if you prefer, try it over fettucini or other pasta.

Summer courses, workshops listed

NON-CREDIT
The University of Southern Mississippi's Department of On-Campus Non-Credit will offer more than 40 noncredit short courses this summer with classes scheduled June through August. The courses are being offered under the auspices of the university's Division of Continuing Education.

Learners of all ages will have the opportunity of participating in a variety of programs designed around convenient scheduling and locations. The program will feature diverse instructional methods and delivery, current subjects and curricular options, and orientation to high education and the satisfaction of goal achievement.

Registration will be June 1 with classes scheduled to begin on June 11 and June 18. Among the courses to be offered are simplified photography which will feature a new approach emphasizing learning by doing with less "talk," watercolors, an energetic, fun, strenuous, exhilarating and relaxing exercise program, and gymnastics, swimming and children's and adult tennis.

Several youth-oriented programs including baseball camp, football and soccer camps, girl's and boy's basketball will also be offered. Other courses will include dog control classes, microcomputing and many more.

For information on how to register, prospective students should write, Short Courses, Division of Continuing Education, Southern Station Box 5056, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5056, or call (601) 266-4201.

International Studies
The International Studies

Program (in association with the departments of Social Sciences and English) at Alcorn State University will offer a graduate seminar, SS 517, Social Science Symposia: International Studies.

This will be a two-week intensive course beginning on June 11 and concluding on June 22. The classes, which will be conducted by ten Alcorn faculty members and a team of outside consultants with a balanced knowledge in various international subjects, will meet from 8 a.m. until noon each day.

Topics to be covered in the seminar include the importance of international studies, the sources of international studies instructional materials, French and Hispanic culture, the Middle East conflicts and dilemma, U.S.-China relations, international terrorism, foreign policy making, and the United Nations.

Participants in the seminar will receive three hours of graduate credit.

Hancock County named defendant in civil suit

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Hancock County is one of several defendants in a civil lawsuit filed April 30 in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District, Southern Division.

Plaintiff Lisa D. Dixon has requested a jury trial in her suit against Gussy A. Cuevas, State of Mississippi, Hancock County and Mississippi State Highway Commission.

Dixon's complaint, submitted by Gulfport attorney Robert O. Homes Jr., alleges that Dixon was injured in an automobile accident in Hancock County May 2 when a vehicle driven by Cuevas collided with her vehicle.

The complaint alleges that Cuevas drove his vehicle over the center of the road and that Cuevas was driving at an "excessive rate of speed under the circumstances."

The complaint further alleges that the other defendants were negligent in failing to maintain traffic signals, traffic indicators, center stripes and other road markings and traffic signals in the vicinity of the accident scene.

Dixon is asking for a judgment in the amount of $500,000 against the defendants jointly and severally for pain, suffering and mental anguish; medical expenses; loss of earnings and earning capacity; loss of enjoyment of life; permanent disability and disfigurement; and miscellaneous expenses.

According to Homes, the accident occurred on a poorly-marked curve on the Kiln-Waveland cutoff road.

"It was raining, and it happened at night," Homes said.

"We feel part of the reason for the accident was poor markings on the road."

Homes said Dixon was badly injured in the accident, which knocked out some of her teeth and resulted in scars on her face.

He said the accident report from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department lists Cuevas' address as Honey Lane, which is in Waveland.

The Sea Coast Echo was unable to reach Cuevas for his comments regarding the accident and the lawsuit.

"At the Kiln meeting people accused us of sneaking this thing in," Supervisor Sam Perniciaro said.

"That's not true."

"This matter does not require any public hearing," he pointed out.

"I had a call insinuating the same thing," Supervisor Bert Courge said.

"It was in the press when the presentation was made. It was done publicly."

The proposal from the department of corrections, initially reported in The Sea Coast Echo on page one Jan. 5 was to establish a community work center for low-risk inmates from the state penitentiary at Parchman.

Chambers said then that 12 centers were authorized by the State Legislature last year.

The 75-man centers, he said, can contribute a half-million dollars per year in services to the communities where they are located, with inmates performing regular or emergency work for county or city governments.

Participating counties provide five acres of land for the center at $1 per year for 25 years.

The prisoners, Chambers assured, would be non-violent criminals who had been thoroughly screened both psychologically and physically.

Prisoners from Hancock County would get first priority, he said, Gulf Coast residents second.

"We have regular trustees at the county jail," Peterson said Monday.

"They're the same type that would be used at the work center."

"We've used prisoners (from the county jail) at McLeod Park for several years and had wonderful success," Park Commissioner Mary Caillier commented.

Other citizen complaints at Monday's meeting came from a Firetower Road resident inquiring about changes in road repair priorities, and two BaySide Park residents complaining about speeding in their neighborhood.

The supervisors assured the Firetower Road resident that road will be paved when funds are available through the state aid project, with Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner pointing out that currently the road is in better condition than many other roads in the county.

One BaySide Park resident said her street was a "drag strip" and that her son was nearly hit by a car when there was an accident in front of her house recently.

"I can't be out there every day taking down license plate numbers," her neighbor said.

Supervisor Bert Courge said he has ordered a number of stop signs and plans to put some up where they are received.

"But," he added, "we're constantly putting up signs and we have a lot of trouble keeping them up."

He said signs were put up all along Hancock Drive recently, and there are now only two or three left.

In other business the supervisors:

—Approved the plat for a proposed development of 49 lots owned by Supervisor Bert Courge near Ansley north of Lower Bay Road, after Hancock County Planning Commission Attorney John Scaife advised that percolation rates were satisfactory and that a subdivision road will be completed in compliance with county regulations.

—Approved a $25-per-meeting attendance fee for officers of the Kiln Water and Fire District, which Mike Haas said would amount to about $100 per month and which will be paid from funds generated by the district.

—Took under advisement bids for a used fire truck for West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department.

—Accepted for filing bids for aluminum culverts from Dial Supply Co.

USN POWER

"Frontline" takes notice of the heretofore relatively unnoticed, but vast increase, in the power of the United States Navy at 9 p.m., Friday, May 18 on Mississippi Educational Television.

Over the next five years, the Reagan administration plans to spend hundreds of billions of dollars to build a new Navy, which, critics say, may not even be able to fight the kind of wars the nation will actually face.

"This administration began with a very clear view of what it believed was necessary to restore the capability to deter the Soviet incursions against our national interest," says Navy Secretary John Lehman in "Frontline's" "Return of the Great White Fleet."

But, argues Bill Lind, a leader of the military reform caucus and an aide to Sen. Gary Hart, "We tend to build a Navy as if we're preparing once again to fight the Imperial Japanese Fleet—not the Soviet fleet."

Neighborhood Watch Program in development

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Lt. Al Hamilton, community relations officer for the Biloxi Police Department, addressed the Bay St. Louis Neighborhood Watch Advisory Council on Monday.

Hamilton, in charge of Biloxi's Neighborhood Watch Program, said, "In Biloxi we have 33 programs throughout the city, some only cover a small area, while others cover several hundred residences."

Hamilton explained how the program works in Biloxi and helps to improve law enforcement.

He said, "The program does not eliminate crime, but sure reduces it in areas where Neighborhood Watches have been formed."

The program is in the formation stages in Bay St. Louis and a Charter of Incorporation has already been applied for, according to Eddie Favre, city clerk and advisory council member.

Lt. Jim Clark, Bay police reserve officer, stated he had received telephone calls from nine residents in the city inquiring about a Neighborhood Watch Program within the last two weeks.

Clark and Bob Welz are the coordinators between the police department and advisory committee which includes Favre, Chuck Breath, Gary Gilmore and Ellis Cuevas.

The program is now in its formation stage with inventory being taken on the needed supplies for a Neighborhood Watch Program for the city.

Citizens interested in having a Neighborhood Watch Program in their area can reach Welz or Clark at 467-3446.

Boat ramp plans stalled after auditors' meeting

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Plans for a new multi-purpose boat ramp and docking facilities for Hancock County were thwarted Monday afternoon when supervisors were told the project cannot be partially paid for from road and bridge tax levies.

Supervisor President A.A. (Dolph) Kellar advised his board Monday morning that he met last week with two members of the Pearl River Basin Development District to discuss a facility at Pearlinton.

"The citizens of Pearlinton are very interested in construction of such a facility," Kellar said.

A Pearlinton resident present at the board meeting agreed, saying there are currently 18 commercial boats in Pearlinton with no place to tie any of them.

A letter from the supervisors mailed after Monday morning's meeting signed by Kellar and addressed to Mike Davis, executive vice president of the development district in Jackson, requested a grant through the district for construction of the facilities.

The letter stated that Hancock County was in a position to contribute $12,000 in county funds, and that the Bureau of Marine Resources has said it will make every effort to provide a financial contribution toward the project.

Kellar said the engineering firm of Lewis-Eaton has been retained to draw up plans, specifications and other pertinent data.

Specifications have not been completed, but Kellar estimated the total cost of the project at about $25,000.

But Monday afternoon the board met with four members of the state auditor's office, and were told it is illegal to spend funds from road and bridge tax levies, intended for road and bridge construction and maintenance, for recreational purposes.

Firing range proposal taken under advisement

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Hancock Supervisor Sam Pernicaro's request for a resolution favoring the establishment of a public firing range at McLeod Water Park was taken under advisement Monday after Supervisors Roger Dale Ladner and Bert Courge said they couldn't support it.

Pernicaro said the range, desired by two local rod and gun clubs, would be open to the public but supervised by the sheriff's department.

Pernicaro said Hancock County Park Commission had approved the proposal, which would also need approval from the Pearl River Basin Development District. Courge noted the park is a bird sanctuary and questioned whether guns could be taken into the park.

According to Park Commission Secretary Hilda Bourg, the proposed firing range site is actually part of Stennis International Airport property, managed by the Port and Harbor Commission, and is part of the buffer zone of the National Space Technology Laboratories.

Bourg said the commission had granted permission for range users to pass through the park on their way to the range, which is accessible only by a road through the park.

Hancock Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said he has discussed the need for a firing range with Pernicaro during the past year or so.

His deputies now use a shooting range at NSTL but would benefit from a more accessible site.

Pernicaro suggested the McLeod Park road as access to a firing range, Peterson said, because it could be supervised and controlled.

Mississippi Republicans adopt state platform

The Mississippi Republican Party adopted its first official platform at its 1984 State Convention, held recently in Jackson. The platform, stating party positions on a number of social and economic issues, contains Planks on: Public Education, Government Reform, Economic Improvement, Transportation and Criminal Justice.

The purpose of the State Platform, according to GOP Chairman Eddie Spivey, "is to formally state the principles for which our party stands. It should help the people of this state to gain a better understanding of the Republican Party's goals of good government, a strong economy, and equal opportunity for all the citizens of our state."

The completion of the platform document followed a series of Platform Hearings held throughout Mississippi, in which citizens expressed their views on the problems facing this state. Republicans with expertise in the various subject areas then compiled draft planks which were revised by the Platform Committee and submitted to the delegates at the GOP State Convention.

"This platform is an important step toward demonstrating to the people of Mississippi that there are fundamental differences between the parties on the state level, just as there are on the national level," Mrs. Spivey concluded.

Your WILL is a way to vanquish EMPHYSEMA and ASTHMA.

Popeye's burglary suspect arrested

Bay St. Louis police report the arrest of a 19-year-old, former Popeye's Famous Fried Chicken employee in connection with a May 9 burglary at the business on US-90.

Robert D. Quinn of Rt. 6, Box 979, Bay St. Louis has been charged in connection with a break-in at the restaurant and theft of more than $350 from a safe, according to the investigating officers Joe Pica and Murray Ladner.

Pica said the suspect is believed to have entered the building through its drive-in window in the early morning hours of May 9.

Quinn was arrested Tuesday and released on $5,000 bond, Pica said.

A preliminary hearing is scheduled for Wednesday in Bay St. Louis City Court.

News Brief

TO WED SATURDAY—Carolyn Stringer and Joseph Besmond, both of Bay St. Louis, will exchange wedding vows May 19 in a 3 p.m. ceremony at Shoreline Park Baptist Church with Rev. Glenn Phillips officiating. Friends and relatives are invited to attend the wedding and reception which will follow at the American Legion Home on Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, an organization chartered by the Congress, has been officially recognized and endorsed by the President of the United States and the Veterans Administration; and

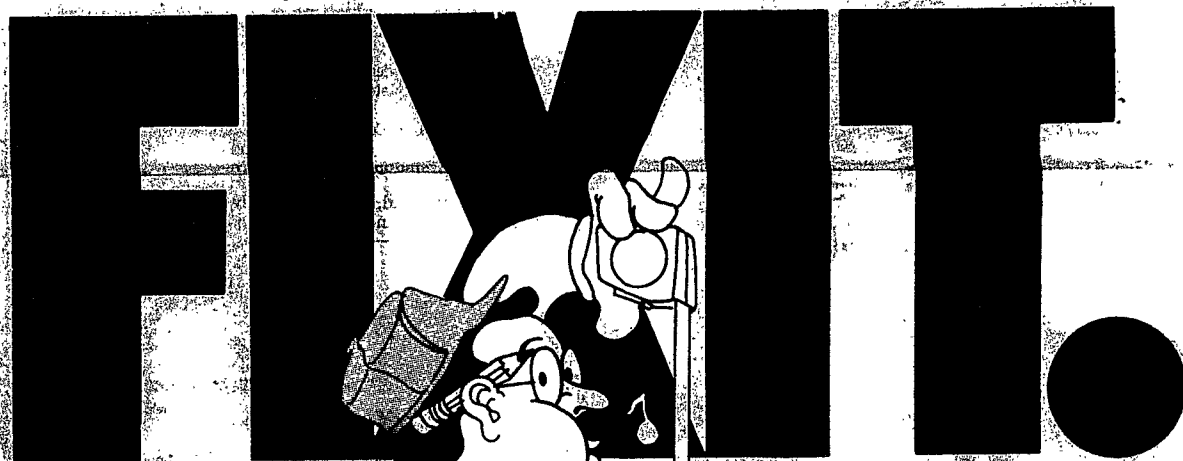

WHEREAS, the proceeds of this worthy fund-raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans; and

WHEREAS, the basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars is eloquently reflected in the desire to "HONOR THE DEAD by HELPING THE LIVING";

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED THAT I, LARRY J. BENNETT, mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, do hereby recognize the patriotic motives of this cause by urging the citizens of this community to contribute generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies; on May 19, 1984, to set aside for the distribution of these symbolic Buddy Poppies as mute evidence of our gratitude to the men of this country who have risked their lives in defense of the freedoms which we continue to enjoy as American citizens.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of this city to be affixed.

Registration fee is $5 and refreshments are available. (Echo Staff photo by Edgar Perez)

Youth Soccer ends season

The soccer season for 1983-84 wound up with the Bay Area Youth Soccer annual general membership meeting and soccer party.

Some 35 people attended to hear how BAYS did this past year.

Secretary Frank Gray reported that the club was incorporated and has obtained tax exempt status.

President Tom Demboski reported that seven teams went to State, five as Southern District champions, and all made a good showing.

Soccer films are available at the Bay St. Louis Library; another soccer camp is planned in Bay St. Louis this summer, times to be announced; and BAYS hosted another successful Under 9 Tournament for the Southern District, Demboski added.

The new board for 1984-85 includes: Paul Montjoy, president; Dusty Rhodes, vice-president; Rachel Weinstein, secretary; Roseline Watson, treasurer; board members, Waddy LeBourgeois, Bernard Tusa, Marion Campbell, Mike Richardson and incumbent Paul Raymond.

Montjoy thanked Demboski for his efforts in getting soccer started in Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and Frank Gray for his efforts in incorporating BAYS and obtaining its tax exempt status.

Montjoy called for more parental support as coaches, assistants, referees, etc., and urged everyone to contact local elected officials to obtain land for a permanent soccer complex and to use available lighted fields for practice.

BAYS reports a successful year and acknowledges the following sponsors:

Coca Cola, Hancock Bank, Neil Franks Real Estate, Specialty Metal, Gateway Body Shop, Bernard Construction, Hancock General Hospital, Lescano's Health Club, McDonald's, Realty, McDonald's Restaurant, Thomas Murphy, R.D.D., and Stockard Building.

Also, Gulf Coast Waste, Knights of Columbus, Alcan Cable, The Sea Coast Echo and Sports World.

BAYS also cited those who helped support teams which went to State: Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, City of Bay St. Louis, American Legion, Mason's Exon, Waveland Ice Company, Delote Insurance, Market Industries, Veterans of Foreign Wars, McDonald Carports and Gulfview Hunting Club.

This year BAYS had four girls teams and 20 boys teams, involving a total of approximately 360 youth. In 1984-85 BAYS is looking for six girls teams and 24 boys teams

Bay Little Theater slates 'The Odd Couple' May 25

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present 'The Odd Couple,' a Neil Simon comedy, May 25-26 and June 1-2 at 8:15 p.m. at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

Director by Mary Carter, the cast includes Charles E. Carter as Oscar Madison, slovenly sportswriter who invited his friend Felix Unger (Vic Frankiewicz Jr.) to share his pigsty-ish apartment when Felix's wife, fed up with his neurotic neatness, throws him out.

The complications that follow are the inevitable result of the clash in lifestyles between the unlikely duo.

Looking on and taking sides are Oscar's and Felix's poker playing buddies (Dick Ehrbright, Edgar Perez, Ed Scanlan Jr. and Tommy Zanca) and the British-born Pigeon sisters (Claudia Murphy and Carol Owen) who live upstairs.

Tickets at $4 are available from Dorothy Marochino, 467-7227, and are also available at the door on the evening of each performance.

TRI-STATE EVENT

Charles Hawkins, 19, of Waveland will be among competitors from Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas seeking titles in the Tri-State Body Building Championships in Baton Rouge Saturday.

The event, which includes open, junior and women's divisions, will be staged at the Capitol House Hotel on Lafayette Street in Baton Rouge.

Hospital event finishers listed

Owen Welch of Biloxi and Lesley Marley of New Orleans were the overall male and female first place finishers in the second annual Run-Bike-Walk Saturday at Buccaneer State Park in Waveland.

The event was sponsored by Hancock General Hospital and hosted by the Gulf Coast Running Club.

Other male first place finishers in the various age groups were Kenny Johnson, 12 and under; Chris Miller, 13-19; Gregg Anderson, 20-24; Steve Phillips, 25-29; Steve Spires, 30-34; Fred Durbin, 35-39; John Conry, 40-44; Lando Sullivan, 45-49; Joe Seward, 50-59; and John Pouncey, 60 and over.

The female first place finishers were Shelley Crawford, 12 and under; Molly Weems, 13-18; Jan Mitchell, 19-24; Donna Kirk, 25-29; Karen Morre, 30-34; Lee Blume, 35-39; Caroline Winstead, 40-44; and Fran Gilbert, 50 and over.

In the 10-mile bike race, Pete Hansen of Gulfport placed first, with Raymond Tipton of Jackson, second; and David Sawyer, Pass Christian, third.

The youngest finisher was Kenny Johnson, age 7, of Long Beach, and the oldest was John Pouncey of Gautier, age 63.

Camping Family Style BY ANGELA AND FORD BOTHWELL

Q. We tow a boat when we camp because we like to waterski. My boat has a 50 horsepower outboard motor, which gives me a top speed of 30 miles per hour. I'm thinking of upgrading to a 90 hp motor. What will my increased speed be?

A. A reasonably reliable rule of thumb is that a 10 percent increase in power results in an average 4 percent speed increase. You would be increasing power by 80 percent, which would give you a theoretical speed increase of 32 percent. Thus, your present 30 mph times a 32 percent increase equals an increase of 9.6 mph. Add 30 mph to the 9.6 mph increase, and you get an estimated speed of 39.6 mph. That's how fast your boat should go with a 90 hp motor.

Competition fierce at Talladega

TALLADEGA, ALA.—Since its inception, Alabama International Motor Speedway at Talladega has been billed as the World's Fastest Speedway. After the recent Winston 500, there is no doubt that it is also the most competitive.

With a 'NASCAR' Winston Cup record of 75 lead changes being established in the May 6th Winston 500, Talladega now has eight of the top 12 most competitive races in the last decade.

"And it's just going to get better. If the fans liked the Winston 500, they are going to love the Talladega 500 on July 29," said AIMS General Manager Don Naman.

Naman points out that the cars are becoming more and more stable at the 200 mile per hour speeds that are run at Talladega, and the competition is getting better and better all across the Winston Cup circuit.

"And the amazing thing is that we can run fewer laps, 188, than any other race except the Pepsi Firecracker 400, which is 100 miles shorter, and still have more lead changes than anyone else," declared Naman.

"We are at a big disadvantage, actually, since we run the fewest laps," Naman pointed out. "Shorter tracks, with a lot more laps, have a lot greater chance for lead changes. Still, we hold the record, and have for a long time."

And the excitement doesn't begin and end at the start-finish line. Jim Hunter, former public relations director at Talladega, and now a NASCAR vice president, recalls perhaps the most exciting lap in NASCAR history.

"There was one race, a Talladega 500 in the late 1970's, where five or six cars had been dicing back and forth all afternoon. Buddy Baker was leading when they crossed the stripe, but Cale Yarborough, Bobby Allison, Neil Bonnett and a couple of others were right on his bumper."

"During the course of the lap, eight drivers led at one time or another, but when they got back to the stripe, Baker had grabbed the lead again. The fans were going crazy, yelling, screaming, jumping up and down. They loved it."

"Officially, there was no lead change, but it may have been the most exciting lap in NASCAR history," concluded Hunter.

"That's why the fans keep coming back in record numbers," said Naman. "NASCAR's most competitive racing at the World's Fastest Speedway is an unbeatable combination."

Legal Secretaries install officers

The 22nd annual installation of officers of the Harrison and Hancock Counties Legal Secretaries Association was held on Thursday, May 10, at a dinner meeting at the Western Sizzlin Steak House, Gulfport.

The welcome was given by Ilyne Stewart who also introduced James K. Wetzel, Gulfport attorney, as guest speaker.

He discussed "The Changing Role of the Legal Secretary."

Patsy Bishop, installing officer, presided over the installation of the new officers for the 1984-1985 year, assisted by Frances Favre as installing marshal.

Those members installed were Billie Ruddick as president, Christy Freeman as vice president, Sue Huffman as secretary, Roberta Burleson as treasurer, Ilyne Stewart as governor, and Jane Ungaro as NALS representative.

Linda Penrose, immediate past president, passed the gavel on to Ruddick during the ceremony, and Frances Favre, past president, presented Penrose with a past president's pin from the national association.

Ruddick was also named "Member of the Year," which was voted on by the membership in March.

Ruddick's theme for the year is "Enthusiasm, Encouragement and Education." The Code of Ethics was read by Becky Barrett; it was announced by Linda Smith, bar liaison and ways and means chairman, that the chapter will be assisting the State Bar Association at their annual convention June 6-9 at the Broadwater Hotel, Biloxi.

Members of the chapter will be attending the convention for the Mississippi Association of Legal Secretaries in Jackson on May 16-20.

Committee chairmen appointed by Ruddick and approved by the board and membership include Smith, bar liaison and ways and means; Becky Barrett, bulletin; Debi Payne, employment; Patsy Bishop, legal education (CLE); Denise Faucett, PLS, professional legal secretary; Jamie Pycha, program; Penrose, public relations; Debbie Butler, telephone; and Betty Lou Clark, historian.

Anyone interested in joining the chapter is invited to the next meeting June 14, 6:30 p.m. at the Western Sizzlin Steak, Courthouse Road, Gulfport.

Governor signs Interpreter Law

Governor Bill Allain has signed into law an interpreter's bill which provides a qualified interpreter to any deaf person who is involved in court actions, public hearings or arrest.

Under the provisions of the new law, whenever a deaf person is involved in judicial proceedings before any court, including civil, criminal, magistrate or juvenile, a qualified interpreter will be provided by that court. This is applicable whether the deaf person is a witness, defendant, expert witness or complainant.

Deaf parents will be provided an interpreter if their children are brought before a juvenile court.

The law provides for the payment of the interpreter's service so that the deaf person will not be billed. It will be the responsibility of the administrator in charge to arrange for the interpreter, according to the provisions of the Mississippi School for the Deaf.

The far-reaching law requires an interpreter for deaf persons involved in any hearings held by a board, licensing authority, commission, administrative agency or political subdivision of the state, Norman said.

If a deaf person is detained or arrested for alleged violation of a criminal law, a qualified interpreter shall be provided by the arresting officer and his superiors prior to any questioning, warning, notification of rights or taking of a statement.

No statement taken from a deaf person prior to the presence of a qualified interpreter may be admissible in court, she noted.

According to Norman, the law defines "qualified interpreter" as one certified through the National Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf, The Mississippi Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf, or, in the event a certified interpreter is unavailable, an interpreter whose qualifications are otherwise determined.

Efforts must be made to employ an interpreter with a Legal Skills Certificate or a Comprehensive Skills Certificate prior to accepting the services of an interpreter with lesser certification.

Anyone wishing to receive additional information or a copy of the Mississippi Interpreter Law should write to the Community Services Program, Mississippi School for the Deaf, 1253 Eastover Drive, Jackson 39311, or call 982-6444 (TTY or voice).

Loan period extended for fishing vessels

The National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration has extended the application period for low interest loans to help fishermen avoid default on fishing vessel mortgages, Congressman Trent Lott announced Monday from Washington, D.C.

Mississippi Gulf Coast fishermen particularly have encountered difficulties in meeting mortgage notes due to a poor shrimping season last year and, due to, damage to tonging oyster reefs resulting from flooding, Lott said.

A total of $1 million was earmarked, by NOAA for fishermen whose vessels are financed under the federal Fisheries Obligation Guarantee Program. These fishermen may apply for low interest loans before Sept. 30, 1984.

Lott said an additional $2 million was reserved for fishermen whose vessels are not financed under the federal program.

According to NOAA officials, these fishermen may now apply only during the open season until July 1, 1984. The previous deadline was March 31.

If funds still remain on July 1, Lott said, the application period may be extended again.

Lott said he had been advised by NOAA that a substantial amount of these loan funds still remains available. Mortgages eligible for the loans are those on vessels of at least five net tons and must have been used to finance the building, rebuilding or reconstruction of those vessels.

Before making application for the loans, fishermen should first contact the Financial Services Branch of the National Marine Fisheries Service at 9450 Koger Blvd. in St. Petersburg, Fla. 33707 for details on eligibility criteria and information on how to apply.

Because loan applications will be considered in the order of their receipt, Lott urges eligible fishermen to make their applications as soon as possible.

United Energy pays dividend

The Board of Directors of United Energy Resources, Inc. today declared a quarterly dividend of 62 cents per share payable July 3, 1984 to holders of common stock of record on June 8, 1984.

United Energy Resources, parent company of United Gas Pipe Line Company (intrastate gas transmission), United Texas Transmission

Company (intrastate gas transmission), Cotton Petroleum Corporation (oil and gas exploration, development and production), United Energy Services Company (contract drilling and well servicing) and PetroUnited, Inc. (bulk liquids, terminaling and marketing), had 27,819,736 shares outstanding as of May 1, 1984.

Gardners, Humane Society establish memorial fund

Mr. and Mrs. Bunk Gardner of Waveland and the Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc. have established the Anne Gardner Hughes Memorial Fund in memory of Mrs. Hughes who recently died unexpectedly.
Mrs. Hughes lived in Starkville before moving to Waveland one year ago and had long been active in supporting domestic animal causes.
She was a charter member of the Starkville Humane Society, Inc. and active in the Bay-Waveland Humane Society.
She also supported numerous out-of-state animal welfare groups.
Mrs. Hughes, born in Kentucky, was also an avid tennis player and bowler. She was a member of the winning team in a national Metro Bowling Tournament.
A deeply religious person, Mrs. Hughes also was a founding member of the Starkville Presbyterian Church.
Any contributions to the fund should be addressed to Mr. Ardley Hanemann, Treasurer, Bay-Waveland Humane Society, P.O. Box 471, Waveland, MS 39676.
Checks should specify that they are donations to the fund.

ONE RAINY AFTERNOON—Francis Lederer and Ida Lupino star in the 1934 romantic farce, "One Rainy Afternoon," to be telecast on "Scribble" at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 19 on Mississippi Educational Television. Misunderstandings abound in a Paris theater. Lederer plays Lederer's face and their stage him with a lawsuit. Ronald V. Lee directed this debut film from Pickford-Lasky Productions.

ETV Brief

IMAGE OF BEEF
Much has been written recently on the fat content of beef, which may be harmful to some people's health. "Farmweek" reporters took a look at the other side of the story by interviewing Jay Wardell from the National Livestock and Meat Board, who contends that beef's nutritional values far outweigh any drawbacks from its fat content. Also discussed are tactics being used to improve the "image" of beef. The program airs at 7:30 p.m. Monday, 21.
Market reports, weather forecasts, farm news, tips for producers of various commodities and a calendar of upcoming events of interest to the agricultural community are included on each edition of "Farmweek." The series is co-produced by Mississippi Educational Television and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Mississippi Power offers tips on controlling cooling costs

Some like it hot, but most Mississippians prefer keeping their homes cool in the summer.

And this often requires extensive air conditioning which causes electric bills to increase. But there are many ways homeowners can cut down on their energy usage without sacrificing comfort.

Mary Pyle, an energy communications specialist for Mississippi Power Company, suggests that homeowners inspect air conditioners before using them. Clogged filters and dirt on the coils make units work harder and cause higher operating costs.

"If the filter is dirty, replace it," said Pyle, who recommends changing the unit's filter at least once a month when it's in operation. "Dirt on the coils should be carefully removed with something soft, like a toothbrush."

Pyle said it is important that the unit's ductwork is well-sealed to keep cool air from escaping and that air grills are not blocked with furniture or drapes. Homeowners should keep the outdoor section of the unit clear of plants and obstructions.

Sufficient weather stripping of windows and doors, adequate insulation and proper attic ventilation will also increase a home's energy efficiency.

Mississippi Power Company recommends setting the unit's thermostat at 78 degrees Fahrenheit to get the maximum efficiency at the highest comfortable temperature.

The energy usage increases for each degree below 78 degrees. For example, at 76 degrees, 18 percent more electricity is used, at 74 degrees, 39 percent more is used and at 72 degrees, usage increases 63 percent.

"But don't be a thermostat fiddler," Pyle said. "Set it and leave it alone."

"Operate the fan setting as you like," she said. "An 'on' fan setting gives more uniform air motion, sound level and temperature. 'Auto' gives better economy and humidity control. In high humidity areas, such as Mississippi, it takes more energy to keep a home's relative humidity at a comfortable level."

When away from home, homeowners can set the unit at 5 to 10 degrees above the normal setting with the fan on "auto" for mildew protection and quick comfort upon returning. "Don't turn the unit completely off because the heat can really build up and it will take more energy to recool."

Keeping drapes and blinds closed on the sunny side of the house reduces the amount of heat that enters the home. Deciduous plants can also shade the home in the summer, yet allow the sunshine in the winter.

"Do chores and prepare food during the cooler times of the day to cut down heat in the home," Pyle advised. "When cooking on top of the range, keep lids on pots and pans and run the vent fan to remove moisture."

"Homeowners need to be aware that the more activity in the house, the warmer it becomes and the more the unit has to run," Pyle said. "There are many ways to conserve energy usage but everyone in the home has to work at it."

TIMBERLINE

By David Watts
Hancock County Forester

In today's fast-paced world, we often overlook God's gift of our natural environment and that magnificent creation, the tree.

It usually isn't until that big old tree is gone that we really begin to recognize how much cooler the shade of the tree made it or how peaceful the place was when that old tree was there.

Just think about some of the huge, old trees. Why, if they could talk, there would be many a story of a town or homestead told.

Just the other day, I ran across a group who recognizes old trees. The Societe' des Arbres (Society of the Trees) recognizes trees which have historic, aesthetic or environmental values of special significance.

This is accomplished through registration. When trees are registered with the society, they are declared to be "indigenous natural assets possessing intrinsic values worthy of area protection," and the person making the application designates himself as the "Protector of the Tree."

The major requirement for registering a tree is that it be three feet in diameter at a point four and one-half feet above the ground. Other tree characteristics desired on the registration application are limb spread and an estimate of the age.

The Societe' des Arbres was founded in 1971 by Mrs. D.L. Conner, a member of the Ocean Springs Garden Club, with assistance from the Gulf Regional Planning Commission.

What prompted Mrs. Conner to start the society was the Live Oak Society of Louisiana. Many of our beautiful old Live Oaks along the Gulf Coast were being registered in Louisiana.

Mrs. Conner, being a tree enthusiast herself, thought "Why shouldn't we have a society of our own which will register all species, not just Live Oaks?" Thus, the Society of the Trees was formed.

The society continues to be sponsored by the Ocean Springs Garden Club and Mrs. Conner, but is now affiliated with the Garden Clubs of Mississippi.

If you know of a beautiful old tree that you would like to protect, why not have it registered with the Societe' des Arbres?

For more information, write the Societe' des Arbres, P.O. Box 805, Ocean Springs, Ms 39564.

BACKACHES

This is the time of the year many people take to outdoor activities which require reaching, stretching and other movements of locomotion. The spinal column, which is the body's shock absorber and the center around which all movements of the body take place, becomes involved with these actions. Thus, it is subject to strain, injury and spinal subluxations if the muscles of the back are not in proper tone. Chiropractic is effective in relieving the pain associated with spinal injuries. We work on the back so results are naturally quick and quick. Chiropractic adjustments are beneficial in keeping you feeling fit and help aid you to maintain good recovery ability and good health.

Babies learn by exploring

As soon as a baby sits up and looks around, she gets a different view of the world which she enjoys and which makes her feel important.

She's probably pulling herself up in her bed and playing with her toes, rolling around on the floor and reaching for her toys, making new noises and trying to 'talk' to you at about seven months old, according to Growing Child, a child development newsletter.

She shows likes and dislikes for the things she eats and toward the people she sees and hears.

her to a variety of objects. Allow her to reach for and feel such natural objects as snow, leaves, rocks, etc. Talk to her about what she's doing and about the shape, feel and texture of what you've given her.

At mealtime, give her a small unbreakable juice glass and a spoon. Continue to feed her as before, but let her try to feed herself.

At about seven months a baby has learned to grasp quite well, although precise thumb/forefinger pick-up will not yet be fully developed.

Now she is also beginning to learn how to 'let go.' This is Very soon she begins watching to see where the object goes and to listen to the sound it makes when it strikes something. Then she begins to throw to see what happens.

These are all learning behaviors. They may be a little hard on mother and dad for a time, but throwing is an important part of learning. Baby is not just doing it to be 'bad' or get attention. She is learning how to let go of objects when she wants to and learning a lot about cause and effect and about gravity.

What can parents do to let their child learn these essential lessons without constantly retrieving objects thrown on the floor?

First, some toys can be fastened to a chair with cord or elastic. These can be retrieved without stooping. Now the baby has a new experience to learn about. Some things she throws fall to the floor—but some things don't! She will learn that the ones on cord or elastic can be pulled back up and she will begin to retrieve these herself.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month by month. For more information on the social and physical development of children from birth to six years old, write to Growing Child, P.O. Box 620N, Lafayette, IN 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing. A year's subscription to the newsletter costs $11.95.

She begins to use her hands, mouth and tongue to touch and explore things. If you give her a plastic cup, she will probably look at it, feel it, mouth it, and end up banging it against something. In this manner she learns about the size, texture, taste and weight of the objects within her reach.

You can encourage a baby's natural curiosity by exposing the second half of the grasp-release movement pattern.

At first, release is done simply by relaxing the hand when attention is distracted. Voluntary release (letting go when she wants to) is a more difficult skill and is learned in several stages: casting (throwing), exaggerated letting go after putting the object down, and controlled letting go.

GRADUATION PARTY—A graduation party was held recently at the Hancock County School District administration office for Belinda Ladner, the first Hancock County graduate of the special program for hearing-impaired operated in Pass Christian. Above, schoolmate J.J. Antoine congratulates Ladner, third from right, in sign language while classmates Susan Necaise and Todd Marquar look on. Below, Superintendent Terrell Randolph and Marcelene Cuevas extend their best wishes. Ladner, 18 and deaf since birth, has been a student in the program since it began in 1977. During the past year she has also worked as a clerk-typist at Pass Christian City Hall under a work-study program. Cuevas, who has transported students since the program began, drives a school bus 170 miles daily. The program, which operates under a consortium agreement involving ten students from Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian—five of them from Hancock County School District—has two full-time teachers, one in the middle school and one in the high school, and two interpreters. Crosby selected by publication

The United States Achievement Academy reports Vivian Crosby has been named a 1984 United States National Award winner in science.

The academy recognizes less than ten percent of all American high school students.

Crosby attends Bay Junior High. She was nominated by her science teacher at the school. Crosby will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The academy selects USA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the standards of selection set forth by the academy.

The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude; leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve; citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Crosby is the daughter of Lamar and Nettie Crosby of Bay St. Louis.

Her grandparents are Mr. E.D. Crosby and Mr. and Mrs. B.H. Ingram, all of Seminary, Ms.

Ole Miss graduates listed

Candidates for degrees for the spring semester at Ole Miss May 19 include:

Michael Durrett Haas Jr., juris doctor; Shari Ann Scalfidi, bachelor of arts; Robble Kirk Asher, juris doctor; and Anna Maria Di Benedetto, bachelor of arts, all of Bay St. Louis, and Charles Theodore Schmidt, bachelor of science in pharmacy; and Donald John Rafferty, juris doctor; both of Pass Christian.

They will be among some 1,186 candidates expected to graduate.

Ole Miss Greeks aid transplant candidate

Representatives of various fraternities and sororities at the University of Mississippi met on the steps of the Ole Miss Lyceum Building recently to present Lafayette County resident Richard Smith, $19,696 in pledges and donations for liver transplant surgery.

Smith, accompanied by his mother and family friends, received the envelope from the students and Ole Miss Chancellor Gerald Turner.

Efforts have been underway in Lafayette and surrounding counties to raise the funds needed for transplant surgery.

"The bulk of the donations came from the Sigma Chi Derby Day, which was sponsored this year for Richard's benefit," said Ole Miss student Brooks McRee.

McRee, one of the organizers of the fundraiser and a member of Kappa Alpha Order, said that more than $1,500 in checks was in the envelope Richard received. He said the Derby Day funds will be presented later this week.

According to McRee, many Ole Miss fraternities and sororities began projects to benefit Smith earlier this year. "Each organization pledged an amount and promised to donate all proceeds from their projects to the fund," he said.

Ned Jones, a friend of the Smith family, said that the present total of all donations received is over $72,000. At least $30,000 is required before liver transplant surgery can be performed.

Summer science camp planned at Perkinston

Gulf Coast Junior College's Perkinston campus will have its 20th annual summer science camp Monday, June 25, through Friday, June 29, biology instructor Dr. David Schwab announced recently.

Schwab, camp director, said the five-day event is open for students who have completed the seventh grade through high school.

Topics to be covered include alternative energy sources, the cell, the animal kingdom, computer science and the chemistry of life.

The program includes lectures, lab work, field trips and recreation.

A $90 fee covers tuition and room and board. Applications should be submitted by Friday, June 15.

Students may obtain application forms from their science teachers or by calling Dr. Schwab at 928-5211, extension 343.

Youth Brief

World's Fair Performers

Two music groups from Gulf Coast Junior College's Perkinston campus will perform at the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans.

Eugene Clement, fine arts chairperson and director of the groups, said the 13-member Kids of Note ensemble will perform Wednesday, May 16. The 22-member choir will perform Thursday, Oct. 18. Each group will give four performances.

The selection of entertainers is made by the Mississippi World's Fair Council, Inc.

Pass High award winners listed

Pass Christian High School Awards Day was held May 7 at 9 a.m. in the high school auditorium.

The invocation was given by Rev. William P. Young. The Pledge of Allegiance was given by Sharon Hayden, Beta Club treasurer. Adrian J. Swanner, principal, welcomed the parents and guests. Beta Club officers were installed and new Beta Club members were presented.

After a selection, "Zun Gali Gali (Pisano)" by the chorus, awards for highest achievement were presented to the students by the faculty.

Those receiving awards were Tharion Adam Cuevas, Vocational English IV; Matthew Wayne Ladner, Regular English IV; Valentine Mytrang Dedeaux, Advanced English IV; Mary Louise Gariga, Vocational English III; and Rhonda Gail Wahl, Regular English III.

Also, Joy Christine Bradley, Advanced English III; Cecil Hockenull, Vocational English II; William Anthony Carroll, Regular English II; Tracy Alanna Lang, Advanced English II; and Charlie James Barnes, Vocational English I.

And, Huong Thi Hoang, Regular English I; Hong Thi Huan Ho, Advanced English I; Cu Cong Nguyen, Physics; Joy Christine Bradley, Chemistry; and Gary Lee Young, General Biology.

And, Trang Thi Nguyen, Modern Biology; Huong Thi

Hoang, General Science; Felix Jay Bernard, Practical Science; Cu Cong Nguyen, Advanced Math; and Thi Thee Thy Tran, Algebra II.

Also, Ky Xuan Phan, Geometry; Gloria Elizabeth King, General Math II; Gaynell Newton, Algebra I; Larry Lavon Willis Jr., General Math I; and Charlie James Barnes, Practical Math.

And, Ellen Kelly Lockhart, American Government; Lawrence Edward Brown, Problems of Democracy; Herbert Joseph Dedeaux, American History; Dionne Maria Pavolini, Mississippi History; and Than Thi Nguyen, Civics.

Also, Trang Thi Nguyen, World History; Julian Malcolm Watson Jr., French IV; Thi Thee Thy Tran, French III; Valentine Mytrang Dedeaux, French II; Joy Christine Bradley, French I and Cartrell DeVinci Watts, Speech.

Also, Rhonda Gail Wahl, Basic Foods; Rhonda Gail Wahl, Basic Clothing; Remelda Lavern Dedeaux, Advanced Clothing; Monica Louise Ladner, Family Living; Angela Michele Carroll, Child Care; and George William Green III, Industrial Arts I.

And, Perry Lee Young, Industrial Arts II; Richard Alan Farragut, Mechanical Drawing I; Jeffery Joseph Ozene, Mechanical Drawing II; Lien Thi Hoang, Shorthand; and

Lawrence Edward Brown, Bookkeeping. And, Sharon Denise Hayden, Office Machines; Clara Theresa Saucier; Intensive Business Training; Lawrence Edward Brown, Typing I; Minh Quang Ho, Typing I; and Tharion Adam Cuevas, Art III.

Also, Angela Marie Zimmerman Murray, Art II; Rod Anthony Jenkins, Art I; Kevin Leon Hall, 10th, 11th and 12th Grade Physical Education; Betty Suzette Reed, 9th Grade Physical Education; and Cecil Hockenull, Driver's Education.

Also, Traci Lynn Pavolini, Band; and Evelean Livette Hatcher, Chorus. John A. Deem, assistant principal, recognized students who were selected to "Who's Who Among American High School Students" and "The Society of Distinguished American High School Students."

He then recognized the U.S. Achievement Academy Award winners in French, Thi Thee Thy Tran and Dana Ashley.

Alan David Dedeaux received the Athletic-Scholastic Achievement Award from Capt. Carol Holden of the Army. Swanner commented on the success of the recipients of awards.

Another selection by the Chorus "Kyrie Eleison," by Lotti was followed by Benediction by Rev. William P. Young.

Your Stars Above

BY EVE EWING

ARIES (3-21/4-19) A little aggressiveness won't hurt, but be careful not to step on others in your headlong pursuit of an objective. You've got what it takes, but it's time to use a lot of tact.

TAURUS (4-20/5-20) Perseverance counts now. You've done all that is possible to bring about good results so don't lose heart. Stick quietly to your guns, and things will break your way.

GEMINI (5-21/6-20) Pick up the telephone and call that person you've been thinking of all week. Never mind that it's been months since you last called. You have something to offer that someone else needs now.

CANCER (6-21/7-22) The support of important people awaits your bidding. Put aside your pride and seek it. You can't expect others to make all the moves first.

LEO (7-23/8-22) The limelight is about to be turned on you. Be ready to meet the challenge. This is the chance you've been waiting for, and all signs point to your success.

VIRGO (8-23/9-22) Life will be easier for you if you stop making mountains out of molehills. Use your logical mind to cut through muddled thinking and spot the main objective.

LIBRA (9-23/10-23) You have earned the right to splurge a little and indulge your taste for elegance with something special. Your good sense will keep you from going overboard.

SCORPIO (10-24/11-22) Get a grip on that hot temper and channel your rage into something creative. Someone longs to help you turn your disappointment into a triumph. Count to ten before reacting too rashly.

SAGITTARIUS (11-23/12-21) Your ability to do everything with style may irk everyone, but don't let it bother you. Underneath your flair for living, lies a warm and sympathetic nature.

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19) Your seeming aloofness is mistaken for coldness sometimes. A dear one could use some sign of affection from you. Don't be afraid to bend a little.

AQUARIUS (1-20/2-19) You attract others like the Pied Piper. Keep this in mind as you strike out after your own star. What's right for you may be dangerous for others.

PISCES (2-20/3-20) Your compassionate nature often attracts unbalanced people to you. Don't be cold, but a sense of self-preservation is necessary for everyone. Try to judge wisely when choosing friends.

men were recognized at the St. Stanislaus Commencement Exercises and they were honored afterward at a special banquet for the Golden Jubilarians and their families. Deceased members of the class—Edmond Fahey Jr. and George Heltmann—were represented by their wives Mrs. Princess Fahey and Mrs. Margaret Heltmann. (SSC photo)

Betcher takes top SSC award

Russ Betcher, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Betcher of Long Beach, received the President's Award, the highest honor given to a graduating senior at St. Stanislaus.

This award was presented at the commencement exercises of the 130th graduating class May 12 at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis.

Brother Paul Mulligan, principal, served as master of ceremonies and Brother William Leimbach was director of graduation.

Brother Mark Thornton presented awards to the graduates.

Wild, Tedford earn degrees at Clinton

Thomas Stephen Wild of Bay St. Louis and Rebecca Jo Tedford of Waveland will be among the 520 individuals receiving degrees in the history-making 158th Mississippi College Commencement program scheduled for Saturday, May 19 at 2 p.m. in the A.E. Wood Coliseum on campus.

Wild takes a BS degree in business administration and Tedford has earned a juris doctor degree.

The 1984 class will be the largest ever in Mississippi College history, and it will also be the first group in modern times to receive degrees on Saturday. Graduation has traditionally been held on Sunday afternoon at the college.

Commencement speaker will be Dr. Joe H. Tuten, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Jackson and chairman of the Christian Education Commission of the Mississippi Baptist Convention. Dr. Tuten will also be the recipient of an honorary doctor of divinity degree from the college.

Three other distinguished individuals, all alumni of the institution, will likewise receive honorary doctorate degrees. They are Robert Gandy of Jackson, a retired businessman and former member of the college's Board of Trustees; the Honorable Charles E. Thompson, an attorney at law in McAllen, Tex.; and Donald E. Phillips, corporate vice-president of International Minerals & Chemical Corporation in Northbrook, Illinois. All three will receive the doctor of laws degree.

Dr. Lewis Nobles, president of the college, will confer the degrees on the 520 graduates. There will be 377 receiving undergraduate degrees, 79 graduate degrees, four the education specialist degree, and 60 the doctor of jurisprudence degree from the School of Law. The vice-presidents or the deans of the various schools on campus will hand out the diplomas.
